³ More information: <https://dl.acm.org/ccs>

- Criterion A – Candidate’s merit (45%)
 - Subcriterion A1 – Academic path (20%), namely the score(s) of the main academic degree(s)⁴; and academic activities in which the candidate participated and/or organized such as non-degree educational programs, training programs, workshops, and other. Relevant international educational experiences will be valorized. This criterion will be assessed via the candidate’s academic degree(s) certificate(s) and also the CV;
 - Subcriterion A2 – Professional experience (15%), namely professional experience; and/or development of scientific activities such as publications published as author or co-author (in scientific journals, books, book chapters, other), presentations at scientific conferences, participation in scientific research projects, and other. This criterion will be assessed via the candidate’s CV and recommendation letters;
 - Subcriterion A3 – Statement of Purpose (10%), which should clearly describe: the candidate’s skills acquired during the academic and professional path (if applicable); the adequation of those skills to the Ph.D. the candidate wants to pursue; and the alignment and contribution that the CMU Portugal Program Affiliated Ph.D. Programs initiative might have to that Ph.D..
- Criterion B – Merit of the work plan (35%), namely its scientific quality, feasibility, the framework of the work plan research theme in the CMU Portugal Program main areas of research. This criterion will be assessed via the work plan.
- Criterion C – Merit of the host conditions and supervision (10%), namely the host institutions’ and Ph.D. Program relevance to the CMU Portugal Program; as well as the supervisor’s scientific merit, experience and previous collaboration with the CMU Portugal Program. This criterion will be assessed via the work plan, statement of purpose, candidate and supervisors CV, and online application form.

For the purpose of deciding on the awarding of scholarships, candidates will be ranked according to the weighted average of the classification obtained in each of the 4 criteria, calculated according to the following formula:

$$Final\ score = (0,45 \times A) + (0,35 \times B) + (0,1 \times C) + (0,1 \times D)$$

A maximum bonus of 0,5 points will be awarded if the candidate presents a suitable declaration of support from a Portuguese ICT company aligned with the work plan submitted in the current application.

For tie-breaking purposes, candidates will be ranked according to the scores assigned to each of the evaluation criteria in the following order of precedence: criterion A, criterion B, criterion C and criterion D.

⁴ If the candidate presents more than one Licenciatura/Bachelors or/and Master degree(s) the committee will need to choose what will be the degree(s) more aligned with the Ph.D. Program the candidate is applying to and evaluate them as main academic degrees in subcriterion A1. The other degree(s) not considered for this purpose should nevertheless be considered in the subcriterion A1 overall score as part of the candidate’s academic curriculum.

Important notes for candidates with diplomas issued by foreign higher education institutions:

- Candidates with diplomas issued by foreign higher education institutions can apply and will be evaluated using the same criteria as candidates with diplomas issued by Portuguese institutions, provided that they present, in their application, proof of recognition of academic degrees and the conversion of final classification for the Portuguese classification scale under the applicable terms of legislation.
- Candidates with foreign degrees who do not show proof of conversion from the final classification to the Portuguese classification scale will be evaluated with the minimum classification (3,00 points) in subcriterion A1.
